BIOGRAPHY

Who Is Jabari Johnson?

Jabari Johnson is a distinguished gospel artist whose artistry transcends traditional boundaries - blending the richness of contemporary worship with the deep, resonant tones of classic gospel. His commanding stage presence and extraordinary vocal prowess have positioned him as a formidable force within the gospel music industry.

Originating from Houston, Texas, this gifted singer, songwriter, and musician began his musical journey at the age of three. With his brother, Nicholas Johnson, he formed the quartet group 'The Johnson Brothers' at just eight years old - sharing the stage with acclaimed quartet acts such as Lee Williams, The Canton Spirituals, Keith 'Wonderboy' Johnson, and Tim Rogers.

While serving as lead guitarist at The Potter's House under Bishop T.D. Jakes in Dallas, TX, Jabari performed alongside renowned artists across gospel and beyond. He later became one of the Worship Leaders at New Life Covenant Southeast, led by Pastor John F. Hannah in Chicago, Illinois.

In 2019, 'Fixed Fight' spent several weeks on the Billboard Gospel Airplay charts and claimed the #1 spot; in 2020, 'Try Jesus' - written for Tobe Nwigwe - charted at #4 on the Billboard R&B Digital Song Sales chart. In 2023 he married Jasmine (Ellis) Johnson, and in May 2025 they welcomed their first child, Jair Xavier Ellis Johnson. He remains committed to using his gifts to honor God and impact lives through music.
